

Anchor 1: “Good morning everyone! On this special day, we gather to celebrate the guiding lights of our lives—our teachers. They are the ones who shape our minds, nurture our talents, and inspire us to dream big.”

Anchor 2: “Absolutely! Teachers’ Day is not just about honoring their hard work, but also about expressing our gratitude. So let’s begin this celebration with a warm round of applause for all our teachers!”

Welcoming Guests & Teachers

Anchor 1: “We extend a heartfelt welcome to our respected Principal, faculty members, and all the dignitaries present here today.”

Anchor 2: “And of course, a very special welcome to the stars of the day—our beloved teachers!”

Transition to Performances

Anchor 1: “Celebrations are incomplete without creativity. To begin, let’s enjoy a soulful performance dedicated to our mentors.”

Anchor 2: “Please welcome our students as they present a song that reflects the love and respect we hold for our teachers.”

Interactive Segment (Light Q&A)

Anchor 1: “Do you know why Teachers’ Day is celebrated on September 5th in India?”

Anchor 2: “Yes! It marks the birth anniversary of Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, a great teacher, philosopher, and former President of India.”

Anchor 1: “Exactly. His life reminds us that teaching is the noblest profession.”

Mid-Program Transition

Anchor 2: “Now, let’s move to a fun skit prepared by our students. It’s a humorous take on classroom life, showing how teachers patiently guide us through every challenge.”

Closing Remarks

Anchor 1: “As we conclude today’s celebration, let’s remember that teachers don’t just teach lessons—they teach life.”

Anchor 2: “On behalf of all students, we thank our teachers for their dedication and love. Let’s give them a standing ovation for shaping our future every single day.”
